Voluntary consensus standards are technical standards (e.g., materials specifications, test methods, sampling procedures, and business practices) that are developed or adopted by voluntary consensus standards bodies. The NTTAA directs EPA to provide Congress, through OMB, explanations when the Agency decides not to use available and applicable voluntary consensus standards. This action does not involve technical standards. Therefore, the NTTAA does not apply to this rule.

I. Petitions for Judicial Review

Under section 307(b)(1) of the Clean Air Act, petitions for judicial review of this action must be filed in the United States Court of Appeals for the appropriate circuit by January 29, 2007. Filing a petition for reconsideration by the Administrator of this final rule does not affect the finality of this rule for the purposes of judicial review nor does it extend the time within which a petition for judicial review may be filed, and shall not postpone the effectiveness of such rule or action. This action may not be challenged later in proceedings to enforce its requirements (see section 307(b)(2)).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. General Information

A. Does this Action Apply to Me?

The Agency included in the final rule a list of those who may be potentially affected by this action. If you have questions regarding the applicability of this action to a particular entity, consult the technical person listed under FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT.

B. How Can I Access Electronic Copies of this Document and Other Related Information?

In addition to using regulations.gov, you may access this Federal Register document electronically through the EPA Internet under the “Federal Register” listings at <http://www.epa.gov/fedrgstr>.

II. What Does this Correction Do?

This correction restores to the first sentence of the introductory text at 40 CFR 707.60(c)(2) the phrase “where such chemical substance or mixture is present in a concentration of less than 0.1% (by weight or volume).” The corrected first sentence of §707.60(c)(2) will now read: “No notice of export is required for the export of a chemical substance or mixture that is a known or potential human carcinogen where such chemical substance or mixture is present in a concentration of less than 0.1% (by weight or volume).” Without the correction to 40 CFR 707.60(c)(2), the rule does not have the effect, as clearly stated in the proposed rule and elsewhere in the preamble to the final rule, of establishing a de minimis level for reporting of carcinogens under TSCA section 12(b).

III. Why is this Correction Issued as a Final Rule?

Section 553 of the Administrative Procedure Act (APA), 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(B), provides that, when an agency for good cause finds that notice and public procedure are impracticable, unnecessary or contrary to the public interest, the agency may issue a final rule without providing notice and an opportunity for public comment. EPA has determined that there is good cause for making this technical correction final without prior proposal and opportunity for comment, for the reasons mentioned in Unit II. The missing phrase in the regulatory text of the final rule at 40 CFR 707.60(c)(2) appears in the regulatory text of the proposed rule as well as throughout the preamble of the final rule, such that the intent to include it in the regulatory text of the final rule is clear. The phrase was inadvertently left out of the regulatory text of the final rule during Agency editing and preparation of the final rule. EPA finds that this constitutes good cause under 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(B).

IV. Do Any of the Statutory and Executive Order Reviews Apply to this Action?

No. This document is a technical correction to a recently issued final rule and does not impose any new requirements. EPA’s compliance with the statutes and Executive orders for the underlying final rule is discussed in Unit VII. of the final rule that was issued on November 14, 2006 (71 FR 66234, at 66243).

V. Will EPA Submit this Final Rule to Congress and the Comptroller General?

Yes. The Congressional Review Act (CRA) (5 U.S.C. 801 et seq.) generally provides that before a rule may take effect, the agency promulgating the rule must submit a rule report, which includes a copy of the rule, to each House of the Congress and to the Comptroller General of the United States. As with the final rule, since this technical correction is considered a rule under the CRA, EPA will submit a rule report to the U.S. Senate, the U.S. House of Representatives, and the Comptroller General of the United States prior to publication of the rule in the Federal Register. This action is not a “major rule” as defined by 5 U.S.C. 804(2).
